Because What You Do Matters

Rocket Communications, Inc. is a professional Enterprise User Experience (UX) Design company dedicated to providing world-class innovative UX solutions for private-sector and government applications. We work on a large variety of complex digital design projects in a fast paced creative environment. Since 1992, Rocket has been exclusively focused on User Experience Design for complex business applications.

Rocket successfully completed a $1.7M Air Force UX Design System and Guidelines project as subcontractor to Harris Corporation

Experience is Everything

User Experience is an imperative and essential aspect of a successful application. Professionally designed User Experiences are paramount for DoD applications because critical missions depend on users ability to quickly and effectively accomplish their tasks and achieve their goals. For nearly 25-years Rocket has been committed to delivering world-class UX Designs for mission critical applications.
